

NCF Diversity UK Employee of the Year!

Huge congratulations to Elaine Ballantyne on winning the National Centre for Diversity, UK Employee of the Year Award 2018. What a fantastic achievement!

The event was an exhilarating and emotional night of celebration, attended by organisations and people with a real focus on fairness, respect, equality, diversity, inclusion and engagement .

The awards marked the contributions of some of the most inspiring, passionate and brilliant individuals who work tirelessly every day, to ensure there is a fairness for all, not only within their organisation but also within their wider communities.

Winners were decided by an independent panel of judges, selected from nominations collated by the National Centre for Diversity. Elaine won the award beating several organisations including renowned international fashion and retail organisation Abercrombie & Fitch!

We're also delighted that the College featured at number 5 in the Top 100 Index. The Top 100 Index highlights the very best from across 600 organisations.
